Dieter Freude

- Personal Data
- born at Leipzig in 1942
 - married, two sons
- Professional Career
- 1965 – 1970 Scientific co-worker, Universität Leipzig, Dr. rer. nat. 1970
 - 1970 – 1977 Senior scientific co-worker, Universität Leipzig, Dr. sc. nat. 1974
 - 1974 – 2007 Vice Chair of the Department Interface Physics
 - 1977 – 1985 Lecturer for Experimental Physics, Universität Leipzig
 - 1985 – 1989 Extra-ordinary Professor, Universität Leipzig
 - 1989 – 2007 Ordinary Professor for Chemical Physics, Universität Leipzig
 - 2004 – 2007 Director of the NMR-Center, Universität Leipzig
 - 2007 retired from professorship and from that time on employed as scientific co-worker, Universität Leipzig
- Training and Research Stays Abroad
- 1967 – 1984 Physical Chemistry at the Moscow State University, Catalysis Research at the Borskov Institute of Catalysis Novosibirsk, about 12 months
 - 1985 – 1989 Solid-state NMR, University of Cambridge, 6 months
 - 1984 – 1990 NMR studies of porous catalysts at the University Paris 6, Pierre et Marie Curie, 6 months
 - 2007 – 2008 visiting professor at Technical University of Malaysia, 3 months
- Expertise/
Activities in Research
- Solid-State NMR techniques of half-integer quadrupole nuclei
 - MAS NMR of inorganic materials in a large temperature range
 - In situ-NMR spectroscopy of heterogeneously catalyzed reactions in porous materials
 - MAS PFG diffusometry
 - More than 220 publications in international journals, including more than 60 since retirement in 2007
 - H-factor of the publications above 40
- Awards
- 1985 Gustav Hertz Award of the University of Leipzig for applications in the field of radio frequency spectroscopy
 - 1986 Donald W. Breck Award of the International Zeolite Association (together with Harry Pfeifer, Jörg Kärger, Martin Bülow)
- Lectures
- Molecular Physics, Spectroscopy, both in German and English, Solid-state NMR, Energy fundamentals
- Internet
- Operator of the domain www.quad-nmr.de together with Jürgen Haase, www.energie-grundlagen.de and www.energy-fundamentals.org together with Randall Snurr, personal Internet site www.dieterfreude.de
